

Excerpt from Entrepreneur, January 2, 2022
Also in Zacks

Bet on These 5 ETF Areas for 2022

Here we highlight a few ETF areas for investors looking to park their money in 2022.

...
...

Clean Energy ETFs

The renewable energy sector is expected to remain strong in 2022. According to the International Renewable Energy Agency report, the outlook till 2022 projects global renewable power expenses to decline more, with onshore wind becoming 20-27% lower than the cheapest new coal-fired generation ... . ... factors like favorable government policies, impressive renewable investments, falling overall cost of generating renewable electricity and growing adoption of electric vehicles (EV) might keep on supporting the momentum in the space in 2022.

Against this backdrop, investors can consider the following ETFs, such as .... Invesco Global Clean Energy ETF (PBD)