Big Ideas for the Small Cap Investor

InvestorIdeas.com(TM) and Leading Energy Portals Present Upcoming Online Investor and Industry Energy Conference Featuring Opportunities in Renewable Energy, Oil, Natural Gas, and Coal

Industry Experts and Public Companies Discuss Rising Energy Costs and Investing in Green Technologies

POINT ROBERTS, WA -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 03/30/2006 -- www.investorideas.comTM, and its two leading energy portals, RenewableEnergyStocks.com and OilandGasStockNews.com, updates the list of industry participants for its Online Energy Investor Conference to be held on April 26th, 2006, and archived thereafter. The conference format will be an audio presentation and an accompanying PowerPoint presentation featuring industry analysts and experts, as well as presenting public companies. Public Companies and Industry Experts provide a comprehensive energy sector overview as they discuss renewable and clean energy, oil, natural gas and coal. Investors and media can gain insight into market movement and opportunities within the diverse and rapidly growing energy sector as we move towards a diversified energy portfolio.

As the nation is faced with rising energy costs, dependency on foreign oil and an overall environmental risk, the energy sector has experienced significant opportunity as the industry works to meet these challenges. Individuals can login to see and hear what the experts and industry participants are saying about market momentum and potential for continued growth.

The InvestorIdeas.comTM umbrella of leading energy portals feature investor and industry resources for the following sectors: renewable energy, oil and natural gas, fuel cells and coal.
